More Than 20 Injured

Bomb Kills Two US Servicemen

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — Two bombs ripped apart a stadium bleachers during a softball game Sunday night, killing two U.S. servicemen and injuring more than 20 other Americans.

The bombs had been planted under six inches of earth about 20 feet apart beneath the bleachers and presumably were set off electrically by Communist Viet Cong terrorists from some distance away.

Names of the victims have not been released pending notification of their next of kin.

In Washington the State Department issued a statement saying:

"This is the most serious of the series of incidents which the Viet Cong have perpetrated against the Americans, starting in 1957. We are resolved to continue extending full assistance to the government and people of Viet Nam in their struggle to put an end to such Communist terrorism."

The carefully prepared bombing brought to three the toll of U.S. servicemen's deaths and to more than 27 the number of Americans wounded by Viet Cong guerrilla action in the Saigon area in a week.

It was feared more such bombings would be directed against Americans in a campaign of terror.

The scene of the bombing was Pershing Field, an athletic field near Saigon Airport used exclusively by U.S. service teams.

Authorities said the bombs appeared to be U.S.-made, 20-pound aerial fragmentation bombs.

There was speculation that the guerrillas had warned Vietnamese residents that the bombs would be set off during the game.

In another development, Communist North Vietnamese leaders visiting Moscow conferred over the weekend with Premier Khrushchev in talks that Pravda said displayed "comradely frankness and friendship."

Tass, the Soviet news agency, charged as the talks in the Kremlin ended, that South Vietnamese planes strafed and bombed a village in neighboring Cambodia and a South Vietnamese land penetration of Cambodia was repulsed.

Ruby Trial Move Effort Opens Today

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's defense chief asked today that Ruby's trial on charges of murdering President Kennedy's accused assassin be transferred to another city without going into any evidence. Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown overruled him.

Chief defense attorney Melvin Belli made the motion after Judge Brown ruled against him on two other counts.

A motion that would have required the state to turn over to the defense all its evidence against Ruby.

An attempt by Belli to read aloud newspaper stories about the killing of Lee Harvey Oswald by Ruby.

The hearing continued after the judge's rulings and the defense began summoning witnesses.

Ruby shot Oswald Nov. 24, two days after Oswald was charged with murder in the Kennedy assassination and the killing of Dallas patrolman J. D. Tippit.

Ruby, 52, returned to court to watch his lawyers fight to have his trial moved to another city on grounds that he cannot get a fair trial here.

A national television audience watched as Oswald, 24, was shot to death as he was being transferred from the city jail to the county jail.

The defense contends that Ruby cannot get a fair trial here because of newspaper stories about the shooting.

The prosecutor, District Atty. Henry Wade, said he will fight vigorously to keep the trial in Dallas.

He maintains that under state law, a defendant should be tried in the same county where he is charged of an offense.

Survey Released

County Property Tax Levy Shown

Pettis County ranked in the middle bracket among nearly 3,400 local governments levying property taxes that were studied by the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey for 1963.

The County levy was 92 cents, while the city levies ranged from $2.35 in LaMonte to $1.50, the lowest, in Sedalia. The special road district levies were all 35 cents per $100 assessed valuation except in Hughesville No. 11, where the levy was 55 cents. School district levies ranged from $2.82 in Sedalia to $1.15 in the Sunnyside district.

The special road district levies are paid in lieu of the 35 cent county road levy.

The Pettis County tabulation for the year is:

City Levies: Green Ridge, $2. Hughesville, $1.75. LaMonte, $2.35. Sedalia, $1.50. Smithton, $1.90 and Houstonia, $2.

School Districts: Cole Camp, $1.85. Green Ridge, $2.53. Houstonia, $2.30. Hughesville, $2.25. Knob Noster, $2. LaMonte, $2.20. Sedalia, $2.82. Smithton, $2.55. Windsor, $2.50. Anderson, $1.90. Bothwell, $1.75. Camp Branch, $1.25. Dresden, $1.60. El Dorado, $2. Georgetown, $2. High Point, $2. Liberty, $1.70. Longwood, $1.50. McVey, $2. Mosby, $1.95. Pilot Grove, $2.50. Postal, $1.95. Quisenberry, $1.65. Striped College, $2.10. Sunnyside, $1.15. Tanglenook, $1.40. Walnut, $1.30 and R-1, $2.

Some districts outside of the county were listed because parts of Pettis County are incorporated in these districts.

The assessment ratio for Pettis County was 31.92 per cent of total valuation, corresponding with the 30 per cent recommended.

The Survey reported that school districts received more

Roving Boa Returns To Pet Shop Cage

ALIQUIPPA, Pa. (AP)—Aliquippa's roving boa constrictor was back in its cage today.

Pet shop owner Clarence Mineard said he found the six-foot snake Sunday right where he expected to—in the basement of the pet shop.

The "baby" boa escaped from its cage Thursday. A fairly intensive search in the shop failed to turn up the snake.

Mineard said the snake posed little danger because it is too young to have much crushing strength. Boas are not poisonous.

Ring Cape Kennedy Construction Work

$213 Million Project Paralyzed By Strike

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Striking Florida East Coast Railway workers picketed Cape Kennedy and the Merritt Island moonport today, paralyzing $213 million worth of construction work.

The picket lines were established to protest authorization received by the railroad today to move freight trains onto Merritt Island, where the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is building facilities for launching astronauts to the moon.

Says Panama Treaty Talks Agreed Upon

'High Source' Contends US Agreed to Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—A high Latin American source has claimed the United States committed itself in 1962 to renegotiating the Panama Canal treaty, but the U.S. State Department says no such agreement was made.

"There is not and never has been a secret governmental agreement between the United States and Panama concerning treaty relationships," a State Department spokesman said in a prepared statement Sunday night.

Earlier, the Latin American source said Panamanian officials told the Inter-American Peace Committee last month that a memorandum signed in 1962 committed the United States to renegotiate the 1903 treaty, under which the United States runs the canal.

Efforts by the committee to set up U.S.-Panama negotiations after rioting Jan. 9 on the Canal Zone border collapsed over U.S. refusal to agree in advance to Panamanian demands that the talks include renegotiation of the treaty.

A committee of the Organization of American States is now looking into Panamanian charges that the United States was an aggressor. The committee is seeking a basis for new U.S.-Panama talks.

"There is no difference in the attitude of the U.S. government today toward treaty revision and that which existed in June 1962," the State Department said.

"A memorandum being circulated by Latin American sources never constituted agreement of any kind," it said. "It is simply a memorandum of conversation describing certain conditions which might entail treaty revision."

Water Plant To Be Built At Cuba Base

Several Civilian Workers Jobs Terminated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced today that "the services of a number of civilian workers are being terminated" at the Guantanamo Naval Base and a new permanent water production plant will be installed there.

The statement was issued after a special Navy survey group had returned from a flying visit to Guantanamo and submitted its recommendations to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The actions were described as a "followup on the President's announced intention to move the naval base at Guantanamo toward greater self-sufficiency."

A Pentagon spokesman said he did not know yet how many of the 3,000 Cuban nationals working on the base would be fired, or exactly when this would happen.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro cut off last week the base's fresh water supply which came by pipeline from a pumping station in Cuban territory.

The Defense Department announcement said the decision has been made "to install, on an accelerated basis, a desalination plant which will provide an adequate and permanent on-base source of water."

The spokesman did not have any cost estimates, but one type known to be under consideration would cost about $5 million.

While the plant is being installed, the Pentagon said, "present conservation and supply methods will assure adequate water for the base."

Before the Cuban supply was shut off, the base and its 10,500 inhabitants consumed about two million gallons a day.

Rationing, put into effect after the Castro move, now limits consumption to about 500,000 gallons a day.

Mrs. Oswald To 'Prove' Innocence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Marguerite Oswald took "new evidence" before the Warren commission today which she says will prove that her son, Lee Harvey Oswald, did not fire the shots that killed John F. Kennedy.

The 56-year-old practical nurse, who asked for a chance to appear before the presidential tribunal investigating the Kennedy assassination, was expected to contradict testimony made last week by Oswald's 22-year-old widow.

Marina Oswald told the commission, and later a news conference, that she did not like to believe that her husband killed President Kennedy Nov. 22 in Dallas, but the facts would not permit her to reach any other conclusion.

Sessions of the commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, are closed, but Mrs. Marguerite Oswald told reporters Sunday:

"I think my son is innocent, and I think I can produce evidence that he is innocent. I have documents, letters and other evidence. I think I can present a good case."

She said she has evidence which has not been brought out previously in the complex probe of the assassination, but refused to explain just what it would show.

Mrs. Oswald said she has been without work since the assassination, but had received $900 in gifts from persons who had written her.

"I've had 1,500 letters protesting the way my son was tried in a few hours and convicted," Mrs. Oswald said.

Oswald was shot down two days after Kennedy's death by Dallas night club operator Jack Ruby.

Roman Mummy

FIND ANCIENT MUMMY—Investigator holds necklace on mummy found at the edge of Rome and said by experts to be the body of a girl who died 1,800 years ago at the age of 10 or 12. Workman found a pink marble sarcophagus while excavating for a new apart-

Accidents

Heavy snow greeting motorists Monday morning touched off a rash of minor accidents in the city and was instrumental in two crashes on highways near Sedalia. Police recorded no injuries in mishaps inside the city limits, but the Highway Patrol reported two persons hurt in one of the highway mishaps.

The reports were as follows: Two cars collided at 8:40 a.m. Monday in the 300 block of West Broadway.

Involved, police reported, were a 1961 Chevrolet, driven by Barry D. Nelson, 17, 2700 West Broadway, and a 1961 Dodge, driven by Allen R. Lingenfelter, 27, Homestead Trailer Court.

Police listed damage to the left front of the Nelson auto and to the rear of the Lingenfelter car.

Another rear-end type collision damaged both autos at 8:25 a.m. Monday at Broadway and Engineer.

Involved, according to police, were a 1960 Chevrolet, driven by Gerald Louis Holman, 28, 1818 East 15th, and a 1955 Buick, driven by Acel Maples, 57, Route 1, Otterville.

The rear of the Holman car and the front of the Maples auto were reported damaged.

Two cars collided at Broadway and Marvin at 7:40 a.m. Monday.

The vehicles involved were a 1957 Chevrolet, driven by Clarence A. Wasson, 42, 511 East 13th, and a 1956 Buick, driven by Rease E. Bullard, 44, 3130 South Ingram.

Police recorded damage to the front end of the Wasson auto and to the right side of the Bullard car.

Two men were injured in a collision on west Highway 50 near the roadside park at 4:45 a.m. Monday.

Highway Patrol Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle, who investigated the crash, said a 1956 Buick, driven west by Raymond Earl Mings, 45, Plato, Mo., and a 1963 Jeep pickup, being driven east by Al Lee Parks, 60, 1615 South Carr, were in collision. The left fronts of both vehicles hit.

Mings was taken to Bothwell Hospital in a Ewing ambulance and treated for a laceration to the right hand and right elbow and some glass was removed from his left eye, Van Winkle reported.

Parks was taken to the hospital by an unidentified passing motorist and was treated for a laceration on the lip, top of the head, a broken nose and a bruised left leg and shoulder.

Extensive damage was recorded to both vehicles and they were towed in to Bacon's Service Station.

No injuries were reported in a car-truck accident at 8:10 a.m. Monday on Highway 65 about 4.6 miles south of the city limits.

Sgt. E. W. Van Winkle of the Highway Patrol reported a 1963 International truck, being driven south by Frank George Lap-pat, 49, Route 2, slowed to make a right hand turn into a lane to pick up some milk and was struck in the rear by a south-bound 1963 Buick, driven by Glen Dale Collier, 44, Hardy, Ark., who was unable to stop in time on the slick pavement. The Buick was pulling a two-wheel trailer.

Minor damage was recorded to the truck, but the car was extensively damaged and towed into Walter Shoemaker's station in Sedalia.

Police Reports

An undetermined amount of money was reported stolen from the ITT Kellogg Company's office at 11th and Ohio sometime late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The break-in was reported to police at 11:18 a.m. Sunday.

Police said entrance was gained by prying open a door on the south side of the building. The money was taken from a file case.

Lawrence Kavadas, 1411 West Fifth, reported to police Saturday night that the water meter cover had been stolen from the meter in his front yard.

Police reported at 1:15 a.m. Sunday that a small glass had been broken in the front of a cigarette vending machine in the coin laundry at Main and Harrison. No loss was noted by police, however.

A man's suit valued at $70 was stolen from a car parked Sunday morning at 317 West Pettis.

Police reported the car was owned by Buck Hemker, of the Terry Hotel. Entrance to the auto was gained by breaking a

Man's Nephew Held in Rifle Murder Sunday

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Basil Brown, 32, of Lawrence, was killed early Sunday by a high-powered rifle bullet fired through a window of a house.

His nephew, Phillip Douglas Jacobs, 22, of Kansas City, was arrested in Merriam, Kan., and was charged with first degree murder. He is being held without bond in Lawrence.

County Attorney Ralph King said the investigation was continuing. He did not disclose a motive.

King said four shots were fired from outside the residence of Ambrose J. Scott, where Brown was in a room with several other persons.

Officials said Jacobs orally admitted firing several shots from a British .303 rifle.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax and state liquor control agent Harold Junge of Cole Camp made two investigative visits early Sunday morning to the Harris Barbecue at 119 North Broadway — a northside establishment which is presently enjoined by temporary Circuit Court in-

The conferees did not settle the time for the 14 per cent rate to go into effect. The Senate voted to make it one week after the bill was signed.

Although the Senate and House are $500 million apart on over-all reductions, most of their differences are considered minor.

Not in controversy are the cuts for individual and corporate taxpayers.

Taxpayers subject to withholding deductions will have an estimated $800 million more in their pay envelopes every month.

The extra money for 80 million individuals and 550,000 business taxpayers is expected by the administration to give the national economy a shot in the arm to inoculate it against a business slump.

The Senate passed the bill Friday ahead of schedule. Its version called for an $11.6 billion reduction.

The House measure passed Sept. 25 provided for cuts of about $11.1 billion.

Most reductions in both plans would be effective retroactively to Jan. 1 of this year.

Somewhere between the two figures, the conferees hope to reach agreement before Feb. 22, which would leave the Senate and the House six working days to consider the compromise and send it to the President before March 1.

The President wants quicker action. He would like to have the lower withholding rates go into effect as soon as possible. The bookkeeping machinery to do this takes an estimated two weeks or more to get into high gear.

Wages and salaries are now subject to 18 per cent withholding rates. The House voted "to drop this to 15 per cent for this year and 14 per cent starting next Jan. 1. The Senate, at the President's prodding, voted to drop the rate to 14 per cent immediately to put more spending money into workers' pockets.

The Senate and House voted to cut individual rates from their present 20 to 91 per cent out-range to 14 to 70 per cent. Two-thirds of the reduction would become effective this year and one-third next year.

Both branches voted to reduce existing corporate rates from 52 per cent to 50 per cent this year and to 48 per cent next year.

junction from the sale of alcoholic beverages or permitting the consumption of such beverages on the premises.

Fairfax said he and Junge confiscated two drinks suspected to be alcoholic in content. One was described as a mixed drink believed to contain scotch liquor and the other was believed to be beer.

The samples are to be sent to the State Liquor Control Department's laboratory in Jefferson City for analysis.

Fairfax said a report of the investigation when completed would be given to Circuit Judge Frank W. Hayes. If the officers' report should indicate a violation of the court's injunction, Otis Harris, 52-year-old Negro proprietor of the place, could be held in contempt of court.

The sheriff said he and Junge visited the Harris place first at 1 a.m. and returned at 2:20 a.m. Several persons, including both men and women, were inside the place, he stated.

A deck of cards was found on a table, Fairfax said, but there was no evidence of gambling.

The sheriff said another Negro establishment was also visited by the officers.

Nurse Capped At Columbia

Mrs. Josephine Van Natta, 321 East 14th, received her cap Friday with the 11th class of Columbia Public School of Practical Nursing, Columbia, after completion of 16 weeks of training. The remainder of the training will be at the Missouri University Hospital, Columbia, and she will be graduated in September.

Mrs. Van Natta has been in nursing most of her life, but, because of her family to rear, did not go on until now to meet the requirements of a practical nurse. She has three children, a daughter, Mrs. Betty Jennings, of the home; Garnett Van Natta, 2308 East Ninth, and Mrs. Elaine Rosenquist, 800 West Boulevard North, Columbia.</

Vaughans Thank Friends

May my wife and I take this opportunity to thank everyone, most sincerely, for the "farewell party" last Saturday evening and for the most beautiful silver tray and accessories that were presented to us at that time.

While we knew about the party, the program, "This Is Your Life," was a distinct and most enjoyable surprise, and Mrs. Lynn (Patty) Wakenknecht was a most capable master of ceremonies. The office girls have cut a stencil of the poem Hazel Lang wrote in our honor and copies may be obtained at the Extension Center.

The silver service, including the large tray, coffee pot, covered sugar bowl and gold lined creamer, is occupying a place of honor on a table in our living room. Also, the store from which it was purchased has offered to give us instructions as to how to maintain its beauty.

Several questions have been asked about my fishing experiences as mentioned in the story. Actually, I lost a "plug" while fishing in a pond at O. F. (Orlo) Richardson's. A few days later he found one of his sons had it caught in her tongue. He salvaged it and it is now back in my tackle box.

W. J. (Bill) Lamm was on the program telling something of my work with them in planning their field arrangement and water management system. Actually, Bill can tell fish stories, too, since his fishing trip to Canada last summer.

We will be most happy to have all of you visit us in Montgomery County after we get settled there this summer.

When to Treat for Cattle Lice

If the cable type backrubber is used on beef cattle, keep the rubber charged with insecticide throughout the entire year.

The fact that cattle scratch or rub against stable objects during the winter and early spring months does not necessarily indicate they are lousy. Therefore, check some of these animals by parting the hair and looking for lice or the nits attached to the hairs before applying control measures.

If you treat, thoroughly wet the cattle all over with the spray. Each dry spot is a potential start of a new infestation.

If you spray during cold weather, pick a sunny day and spray early enough during the day that the cattle have a chance to dry out before night.

Seeding Rate for Summit Lespedeza

Farmers have heard about and are acquiring Summit Lespedeza seed for the 1964 season. They are asking for the recommended rate of seeding Summit as compared to Korean.

University of Missouri Extension Field Crops Specialist Ross Fleetwood says there is no reason to seed Summit Lespedeza at a different rate than regular Korean Lespedeza except for the difference in the price of the seed.

Most Summit seeded this year will be for seed production. For this use 10 to 15 pounds of seed per acre should be sufficient. If hay or pasture is the main objective then 20 to 25 pounds should be seeded.

For establishment of a Lespedeza stand at minimum cash cost, five to ten pounds per acre will give a thick enough stand to volunteer a good thick growth in 1965. At this low rate of seeding the 1964 production would be expected to be very low in terms of pasture, hay or seed, unless we have an unusually favorable season this year.

Fescue Foot

Livestock men, experiencing problems with fescue foot, are asking if it is possible to contract the foot disorder from eating baled fescue hay.

University of Missouri extension specialists say fescue hay is usually considered safe to feed cattle. However, trouble has been reported on rare occasions.

An MU guide, Current Report on Fescue Foot, is available at the County University Extension Center. It should provide the answers to many of the questions regarding fescue foot.

Investment Tax Credit

University of Missouri Extension Economist Charles Beer says this is the most important tax saving legislation enacted in several years.

A provision of the Revenue Act of 1962 allows a credit against tax in an amount equal to seven per cent of the qualified investment in property purchased after 1961. It's a credit against the tax due, not against taxable income. This means should pay would be subtracted, seven per cent of the tax you owe.

The credit applies to new and used tangible personal property and some other property, excluding buildings and livestock. For property to be eligible, the useful life must be four years or longer.

If you did not take advantage of the tax credit on 1962, you should file an amended return from 1962.

For further information on the Investment Tax Credit, Beer advises you to consult a qualified tax consultant.

Federal Income Tax

With the deadline for filing federal income tax forms coming up Feb. 15, farmers are asking if they can take advantage of both the seven per cent investment credit provision plus the additional 20 per cent depreciation on new machinery purchased in 1963.

University of Missouri Extension Farm Management Specialist Charles Beer says a farmer can take advantage of both provisions.

In order to take the full seven per cent investment credit the machinery must have a useful life of eight years or more. If it has a useful life of four to five years, one-third of the seven per cent is allowed. Two-thirds is allowed if the useful life is six to seven years. The investment credit is calculated on the total cost of the new machinery.

The first year 20 per cent optional depreciation is allowed on equipment with a useful life of six years or more. It is calculated only on the cash difference paid and is limited to ten thousand dollars worth of equipment in any year.

Beer suggests you review the Farmer's Tax Guide for 1964. Copies are available in County University Extension Centers.

Creep-Feeding Calves

Livestock men with late calves, or those preparing for calves this spring, are asking if it is advisable to creep-feed calves in commercial herds.

University of Missouri animal husbandmen list a number of conditions under which creep-feeding is likely to pay.

It is usually profitable to creep feed calves dropped in the fall or early winter, even though the cows are well fed through the winter.

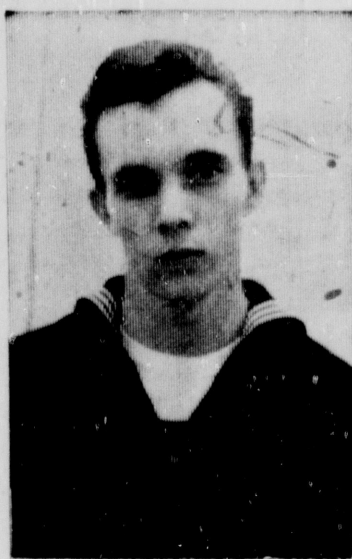

When pastures are poor for the cow herd during the suckling period, calves should be creep-fed.

In drought years, creep-feeding increases weaning weights, when pastures are below normal.

Calves should be creep-fed when there are many first calf heifers, or aged cows in the herd.

It pays to creep-feed when the herd has inherently poor milkers.

Finally the calves should be creep-fed if they are to be sold for slaughter at weights ranging from five to seven hundred pounds. This is often the most profitable way to market low-quality calves, such as those that are part dairy stock.

Four Reports On Pastures At Meeting

Four of the 12 farmers who won "Pasture of the Month" Citations in 1963 reported on their pastures at the Soils and Crops Meeting Saturday. They were Ralph Chaney of Green Ridge, Das McClure of Hughesville, L. F. Raabe of south of Dresden and Milton Tobaben of Mora.

The Chaney pasture which was an October winner, consisted of 25 acres and was on the farm of his father, George M. Chaney, which he rents for cash. Eight acres of it has been seeded for some time while the rest was planted three years ago. It received a top dressing in January of 30-30-30.

The pasture is primarily fescue with a scattered stand of Lespedeza. There were 22 heifers on it until it started to head. It was later combined for seed and then the heifers were returned. Fourteen cows and their calves and two bulls were put on it the first of August. The judging committee reported an abundance of pasture.

The 6 acres Milton Tobaben pasture was nominated by the Extension Council member in Lake Creek Township, Clarence Schlesselman, for the month of September. The field is terraced and was seeded in September, 1962, to Orchard Grass, Alfalfa, and Ladino Clover. The seed was put on with a drill. The field had been brought up to soil test previously.

Two cuttings of hay were taken from the field in the spring and summer and there were 14 calves grazing upon it when the Extension Director visited it in early September. At that time there was a real good stand of not only the orchard grass, but also the alfalfa and ladino clover. Total cost of seed and treatment was $61.60 per acre. The two cuttings of hay were sold for $91 per acre so all costs were returned in one year.

The L. F. Raabe pasture, one of the June winners, included about 28 acres. However, only 12 acres of it was treated in February, with three tons of lime, 1000 pounds of rock phosphate, 150 pounds of potash and 300 pounds of ammonium nitrate.

Raabe told the judges that the 45 yearling steers made about one circle each day of the 16 acres that was untreated and then did all their grazing on the 12 acres that had been top dressed. These steers had been receiving about 5 pounds of corn per day so their pasture needs were not as great as otherwise.

The Das McClure pasture which was a May winner had 110 (approximately 1,000 pound) steers on 135 acres of timothy, Lespedeza and ladino pasture.

This pasture was about three years old. The grass was so good the judges did not think there were any cattle on it. The

Davis, Merk Review Success with Sudan

Come spring and summer in 1964, most all dairymen will be clamoring for more and earlier pasture to cancel out some of the cost of high priced hay.

Joe Davis and Cloyd Merk, dairymen, near Smithton reported on their early seeding of Sudan, for pasture in the spring of 1963, at the Soils and Crops meeting Saturday. By all standards, they did everything necessary to get a good yield of early pasture.

Each seeded 50 pounds of certified Piper Sudan per acre by applying 25 pounds in each direction with a wheat drill. Each applied about 70-70-70 of fertilizer per acre.

After the first round of pasturing, crabgrass took over on both farms. The Sudan had been seeded about April 20 on both of these farms. Sudan is not a cool season crop. Their advice was to wait until the soil is warm, after corn planting, to seed Sudan for pasture to assure a sturdy plant and strong stand.

New Summit Lespedeza Is Discussed

Harold Williams, Hughesville, told of seeding the new Summit Lespedeza for increase of registered seed at the Soils and Crops conference Saturday.

New seeds made available by the Missouri Seed Improvement Association are first called "foundation" and then "registered" seed. The next year there is generally enough to put out as Certified Seed. From there on there are no restrictions.

This registered seed had to be planted on ground where no Korean Lespedeza had been grown for 5 years. The seed was developed jointly by the Experiment Stations of Missouri and Arkansas and Harold's seed came from Arkansas. He obtained enough for ten acres and seeded it at the rate of 15 pounds per acre with one bushel of oats per acre. The oats were cut for hay. It was late before he could get seed and the seeding was done in late March.

"Korean Lespedeza," he said, "when sowed as late and as dry as it was, is not usually tall enough the first year to combine but this was 10 inches high and had leaves pretty well to the bottom of the stalks." In spite of the dry weather he had a fairly good stand.

They were able to harvest 1300 pounds of clean seed from the 10 acres and have seeded 600 pounds of it themselves. The rest was sold at the farm at 40 cents per pound. They had paid 50 cents for the original seed. Williams remarked that the new variety looked quite good to them and also that they had received a lot of inquiries about it.

Clifford Smith of Houstonia reported seeding 14 acres of Summit Lespedeza and harvesting just short of 1300 pounds of clean seed. He seeded a bushel of oats per acre as did Harold Williams but it stood out to look like three bushel per acre. He and his landlady, Charles Parkhurst plan to seed 8-10 more acres this year.

Their seed is at the MFA at Marshall where they had it cleaned. To date it has not been sold.

110 steers were receiving about 1,000 pounds of corn and cotton seed meal per day on the grass. There were also 50 gilts and their pigs on this pasture.

Two Discuss Application Of Atrazine

Farmers experiencing new troubles with giant foxtail and stubborn weeds in their cornfields were interested in the reports given at the Soils and Crops Conference with the use of Atrazine in 1963.

Paul Neitzert and Leonard Knoernschild reported on the use of liquid atrazine. Lee Dow and Leo Schuber told of their use of atrazine granules.

Neitzert and Knoernschild band sprayed a 16 inch strip at the rate of one pound of 80W wettable atrazine powder in 7 gallons of water per acre. Neitzert sprayed his band behind the planter at planting time. Knoernschild band sprayed his corn when it was 3-4 inches tall and the weeds were 1-2 inches tall. Knoernschild had first band sprayed this corn with 2-4-D at time of planting. At the time of harvest on the Knoernschild farm there were fields of corn band sprayed with 2-4-D and atrazine separated only by a lane.

Paul Neitzert uses a rotary hoe when the weeds between the rows are 1-2 inch tall. The corn was cultivated once when knee high.

Both Neitzert and Knoernschild were well pleased with the grass and weed kill in the row. Even the blue grass across the ends was killed in bands. It was necessary to install larger nozzles and screens when atrazine was used in a 2-4-D sprayer.

Dow and Schuber experienced conflicting results with the use of atrazine granules. Lee Dow experienced a good kill in an old feed lot but he received a half inch rain in ten days. Both banded the granules with their planter at the rate of three to four pounds per acre.

Schuber used the atrazine granules on the first corn planted on April 21st. No rain came for over two weeks. Corn that was planted later was banded with 2-4-D granules with good results.

Walz Reviews Howard Pasture Demonstration

Don Walz, a representative of T & O Lime and Rock Co. set up a pasture demonstration on a permanent pasture at the Marvin Howard farm under the guidance of Merle Vaughan, the County Extension Director.

The Howard pasture consisted of 90 acres. It was seeded about five years ago. Last spring a soil test was taken and in March it was treated with two tons of lime, one thousand pounds of rock phosphate and a top dressing of 60-20-40 per acre. At the time of the "Pasture of the Month" judges visit in April, there were 100 cows and 29 calves grazing on the 90 acres. A comment of the judges was good grass, well balanced between green grass and legumes, evenly grazed but a little short. It was named the "Pasture of the Month" for the north side of the county.

Actually there were four plots, each was treated differently and a small area on each was fenced out to check yields. Yield checks were made in early June. That plot receiving two tons of lime, 1,000 pounds of rock phosphate and 500 pounds of 12-4-8 commercial fertilizer yield 4,831 pounds of dry hay. Where only lime was omitted the yield was 4,000 pounds.

The plot receiving only lime and the one with no treatment yield 3,000 pounds each. However there was a good stand of legume where lime had been added and none could be seen in the no treatment plot.

Similarly there was a good stand of legumes where the full treatment including lime was applied while no legumes could be seen in the plot having only rock phosphate and top dressing.

New Formula Needs Trying

Nobody has THE one answer to juvenile delinquency. The courts are, frankly, experimenting in an attempt to find the best approach in handling delinquents—to strike a mean between understanding and punishment that is best calculated to salvage the potential of the young people who are brought before them.

Part of this experimentation is the juvenile court itself, which often looks as little like a court as possible. The judge, in business suit, may sit at the same table with the defendant and his mom and dad. Informality reigns and the atmosphere is one of friendliness.

The object, of course, is to show a youngster that the law and its enforcers are not to be feared and dreaded but that they are there to help him.

Too often, apparently, this method not only has prevented fear of the court on the part of youthful offenders but respect for the court as well.

This picture is changing in many cities. Juvenile courts are becoming more formal and awesome, more like regular courts. The judge, robed in black, presides with solemnity from the elevation of his bench. The formal swearing-in procedure is followed with all witnesses.

Perhaps a little awe and fear mixed in with the compassion and understanding may be just the right formula to reach these youngsters. It's worth trying.

For to accord dignity to a court is also to accord dignity to those taking part in the proceedings. Maybe that's just what some kids need.

Business vs. Weed

A number of businesses are said to be following the lead of a Long Island, N.Y., bank which has banned smoking by employees at its 50 branches—except in washrooms.

It's a noble experiment, but cynics claim such a rule will do more to make washrooms popular than to make cigarettes unpopular.

Worst of all, it could have more adverse effect upon the Gross National Product (through reduced worker efficiency) than upon tobacco consumption.

On the other hand, if the idea succeeds—if nonsmoking proves to be both good busi-

Volta River Project Should Be Moved

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration has an easy way to make the No. 1 egomaniac of Africa, President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana, climb down from his high horse and quit badgering the United States, which has so long befriended him.

All the administration has to do is give the word to the Kaiser Corporation, now building the giant $196,000,000 hydroelectric project on the Volta River, to close it down in Ghana and move to Nigeria.

The project can be built on the same river, at the same expense, but in a friendly country. Very little work has been done along the Volta as yet, and its removal to Nigeria would meet with approval from practically every African country.

For President Nkrumah is about the most unpopular man in Africa, chiefly for the reason that he has given the rest of the continent a black eye. The new republics of Africa are proud of their progress and down on the dictator of Ghana who has ruled with the mailed fist and stifled all political opposition.

If the Volta Dam is built in a country where the United States is constantly kicked in the seat of the pants, the American embassy mobbed and the stars and stripes hauled down, the USA will lose face. If the Volta project is transferred to friendly Nigeria there will be applause.

Note — Kaiser industries is planning a big bauxite plant on the Volta River for the manufacture of aluminum. Bauxite deposits are also found in Nigeria.

Jackie Steps Out

Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy has begun to move around unobtrusively in Washington society. Her surprise appearance with Marlon Brando at the Jockey Club has not been her only social engagement.

The other evening she was invited to dine at the British embassy, and Lady Ormsby Gore at the last minute found herself shy a companion for the former first lady. So she put out an emergency call through the White House to find Mike Forrestal, a White House aide.

This resulted in a unique situation by which the British embassy used the White House telephone switchboard as a social secretary to round up an extra man for Mrs. Kennedy.

Meanwhile, the Jockey Club, which got in the news as a result of Jackie's quiet dinner with Marlon Brando, has been swamped with guests. On the Saturday night following her appearance there, the club turned away 500 diners.

It's now leaked out that Jacques Vivien, astute manager of the Jockey Club, saved the former first lady the embarrassment of being photographed. Vivien spied a photographer in the club. The lights were turned low and it was impossible for him to take pictures, but as a precaution Vivien asked him to leave. He complied.

But when Vivien discreetly escorted Mrs. Kennedy and Princess Radziwill with Brando and George Englund, producer of the Ugly American, out the kitchen door, the photographer was in wait just beyond some garbage cans.

Jackie hastily retreated. The photographer did not get his shot.

Jackie then reconnoitered, and on the advice of Mr. Vivien decided to go out the front door with her sister.

By this time, the photographer had come around to the front door. He snapped the two girls together. Brando, however, a diplomat as well as an actor, discreetly left by the kitchen door via the garbage cans.

De Gaulle and Castro
The American embassy in Paris has warned the State Department that President De Gaulle when he goes to Mexico and the French West Indies in mid-March is almost certain to pay a call on the No. 1 thorn in the side of the United States — Fidel Castro.

De Gaulle not only enjoys sticking pins into American foreign policy, but wants to give a boost to the French sale of trucks, buses, and locomotives to Castro.

This is no ordinary deal. The trucks and locomotives used in Cuba hitherto have all come from the United States, and one thing that has stymied the Cuban economy is the difficulty of getting spare parts. For a time Canada flew spare parts to Havana, previously purchased from Detroit. Finally, the State Department persuaded Canada to desist.

Now France is coming to Castro's rescue with $10 million worth of new transportation.

New French Canal
Concern over this is nothing, however, compared with reaction, when and if it becomes known, to what De Gaulle is reported to have up his sleeve regarding Mexico.

When he visits Mexico, De Gaulle expects to discuss a new French canal route through Mexican territory, in competition with the Panama Canal.

The French have one trump card up their sleeve in digging a new canal — namely, the use of atomic blasts. Under the Test Ban Treaty, the United States would be handicapped in using atomic energy for canal construction. But France never signed the treaty, so De Gaulle can do atomic blasting regardless of radioactive fallout.

Ever since 1900 the French have been sensitive over their failure to dig the Panama Canal. Ferdinand De Lesseps, who dug the Suez Canal, started Panama but abandoned it. The French then hired the original law partner of John Foster Dulles and he lobbied Congress into buying the old Panama Canal bonds from the French and putting the route through Panama instead of Nicaragua as originally voted by the House of Representatives.

Again in 1956 the French were humiliated by Eisenhower's demand that they pull their troops out of Suez, a canal which De Lesseps had dug successfully.

So De Gaulle's ambition is reported to be the restoration of French prestige by digging a new canal through Mexico.

Sickening Effort to Isolate Castro

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country's effort to isolate Fidel Castro is beginning to look sick if only because business is business.

It's not a one-way street, either.

A British newspaper, the Daily Mail, complained bitterly over the weekend because a leading British physiologist, unable to get enough research funds for his work in his homeland, is leaving for the United States.

This is a frank acknowledgment of business rivalry at a time when the United States is complaining bitterly because British and French firms are selling Castro millions of dollars' worth of buses, trucks and tractors.

They are not the only friends or allies who are dealing, or are expected to deal, with Cuba. Spain is expected to buy 200,000 tons of Cuban sugar this year, the Netherlands and Japan about 100,000 tons each. Castro in turn is expected to buy things from Japan.

This country was angered perhaps even more when France recognized Red China which this country would like to isolate, just as it would Castro. So far it has kept Red China out of the United Nations.

President Charles de Gaulle, being very practical, said it was just the practical thing to do, since the reality is that the Red Chinese run the China mainland. He is also butting into Southeast Asia and Latin America.

The British prime minister, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, even made stepped-up British trade with Cuba sound like a device for destroying Castro's revolutionary fervor.

He defended it this way: "People become less Communist when they're more comfortable."

Sen. Barry Goldwater, running for the Republican presidential nomination, as usual has a simple answer. He says he'd use warships to stop British or French ships from carrying cargoes to Cuba.

Since he's not president, he wouldn't have to take the responsibility for what might happen afterward if President Johnson followed his advice.

For instance: What would happen to this country's various alliances if it tried to stop its allies' ships with American warships? What would happen if they ignored the warships' orders to halt?

The United States can't very well go to war with Cuba without risking the loss of its world influence or war with the Soviet Union. And no administration in a presidential election year is likely to come to terms with Castro.

So there doesn't seem much it can do except to try to persuade its allies and friends not to overdo this business of business with the Cuban.

The Mature Parent

Struggle With Poor Decision

by Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: A year ago I separated from my husband, got a job and put my girl 18, in boarding school. It is a very good school which takes her at a reduced fee because my husband has disappeared and contributes nothing to her support. This Christmas—when she was home—she said that she would find a job if I would let her remain with me. I have cried myself to sleep every night since she left. My apartment is in a poor section of town and I am so afraid of leaving her alone after school to run the streets and get in trouble.

ANSWERS: Risk the trouble. Risk the streets. Bring her home. By keeping her at this school you are, I know, trying to protect her and yourself against more disaster. This "very good" school can be trusted to make "very good" decisions for her—not the bad kind you fear you will make for her. This fear is the almost invariable problem of mothers in your position.

Because their choice of a husband has ended in disaster, they become convinced that all their decisions henceforth will also result in trouble. They are so appalled by the havoc wrought by their poor marital decision that they become deeply and secretly afraid of their ability to ever choose well again.

You have been weeping every night over lost trust of yourself. But this child of yours trusts you, doesn't she?

How do you account for that? Why should she prefer to live with a mother who makes such poor decisions to staying at a school which makes such "very good" ones? Why does she want to commit her safety to you—the woman who chose such a poor father for her? Is it possible that she sees some quality in her mother that she trusts much more than she trusts this very good school? Of course she does. And I know what it is that she sees.

It is her mother's willingness to struggle with the consequences of a poor decision.

In this world there is only one category of trustworthy people—the strugglers with poor decisions. Though we all make them, only the reliable among us are willing, like you, to struggle with their consequences. The unreliable either pretend they haven't made poor decisions or walk away from their consequences. That's what your child knows. She wants to come home not because she expects perfect decisions from you but because she can trust you to struggle with the results of imperfect ones. She has recognized responsibility in her mother.

Democrat Pick-ups

Seeing something advertised for 50 cents with a coupon, a woman taped two quarters to a piece of pasteboard, put it and the coupon in the envelope she had addressed, picked it up with some letters she had written and started to town. She had forgotten to seal the letter with the money in it and somehow along the way it slipped out of the bunch of other letters and fell to the sidewalk, without her realizing it.

A few days later when she went to the Post Office she was given the letter and told that some children had found it on the street and brought it to the Post Office. Although she found that the letter had not been sealed, the money was still in there taped to the pasteboard

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

Missouri's present prison set up, ruled by the Merit System, is a startling contrast of old and new facilities with apparently too little funds to operate efficiently and too great a turnover in personnel.

At Jefferson City, the maximum security prison for men contains some cells that are hardly livable while at the modern Moberly reformatory, the contrast is so great the inmates are seemingly on vacation by comparison. And, it has been suggested by at least one politician that the Jefferson City prison be eliminated entirely.

This latter point of view may prevail in the future, but at present the state appears to be helpless to do anything about ridding itself of this aged institution. As Governor Dalton commented recently, action will be up to the next governor and General Assembly.

However, the same thought has been voiced in a 15-page report submitted by Southern Illinois University's Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections. The report reveals that over the past 30 months "490 serious acts of assault including 145 stabbings had occurred among inmates." These assaults, the report points out, resulted in six inmate fatalities, with a seventh later reported.

To show the "greenness" of the prison's staff at Jefferson City, the study showed one-fourth of the custodial personnel had less than a year's experience. Over half the guards were between 45 and 65.

But, perhaps one of the most startling disclosures of the study was the rapid staff turnover. During the 1963 calendar year, the turnover rate among guards was 16 per cent, including 16 dismissals.

Facing the cause squarely, the study said an important factor to the present situation "is the low entrance rate of pay for new guard officers which is $262 per month." Within three years this could rise to $352 but the Department of Corrections hasn't funds for such raises, it was noted.

As could be expected, however, all isn't hopeless for Missouri's penal system. The study points out that while it concentrated on weaknesses, there are present a great many things "right" in Missouri prisons.

"The new reformatory at Moberly, in physical plant and program, promises to become one of the outstanding institutions of its kind in the country," the report said. A similar opinion was voiced last year by a sociologist who toured the facility with this reporter.

Among the changes recommended by the reporter were: more in-service training; higher pay; additional personnel; upgrading administrative functions; and eventually replacing the Jefferson City prison with smaller maximum security facilities.

The report concluded on an ominous note: "The present inadequacy of the guard force, both in training and supervision, suggests that a minor incident might trigger a disturbance of major proportions."

The latter opinion may be enough to influence General Assembly action next year to avoid a recurrence of the disastrous and costly riot of the mid-50's.

Voters May Decide Succession Question

Over a hundred persons have responded to a plea by Governor Dalton to help in his campaign to have the question of gubernatorial succession placed on the ballot in November's general election.

Missouri today ranks with 13 other states which have imposed a one-term limitation on their Chief Executive. These states are Alabama, Georgia, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Montana, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

In addition, seven states emulate the federal government, with a two consecutive term limitation.

To get such an issue on the November ballot undoubtedly will prove to be a difficult task for the governor. The initiative process requires signatures of eight per cent of the voters in seven of the state's 10 congressional district, based on the voter turnout in the last gubernatorial election.

The one-term limitation automatically makes a "lame duck" out of a governor and any programs commenced but not finished within the four-year term are likely to remain in this state. Dalton originally endorsed the one-term concept without reservation but now has joined that school of thought advocating a change.

It undoubtedly would be easier for the legislature to act on the limitation, but this august body apparently doesn't cotton to the idea. In any event, the governor has a long row to hoe.

Liquor Control
The Department of Liquor Control last year revoked 35 licenses in Missouri, the harshest action the department can take.

By revocation, a person can never be licensed to operate a tavern or bar in Missouri again, thus ending a very profitable livelihood.

The department also suspended 422 licenses which amounted to sizeable fines for those involved since business has to be curtailed during the suspension period.

Tile Ivories With Plastic

By Polly Cramer
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY — Our piano needed new ivory keys but the cost of having it done professionally was prohibitive. I bought 15 4½-inch square white plastic wall tiles, cut and glued them on the keys and they look very nice. The store lent me a cutter which made the job easier. Eight key tops were cut from each tile. First trim away the curved edge from TWO sides but leave the fronts of the keys. Sand the cut edges with very fine sandpaper. This costs about a dollar for both tiles and glue.

MRS. C. E. B.

GIRLS — I did not have a piano to try this but it certainly sounds logical and practical. However, this would not be recommended for a fine piano but should make a big improvement in the looks of a second-hand or old piano that was being renovated for use in a playroom. — POLLY

DEAR POLLY — Here is a manicure help: First paint the left little fingernail and then the right one. Next the left ring finger and then the right and continue in this manner until the thumbnails are painted. There is no waiting for one hand to dry and I haven't yet smeared a fingernail.

When my two boys shared a room with bunk beds, there was a constant argument over the top bunk. This was solved by letting each sleep a month in one bunk and then change. With this rotation they each enjoyed the coveted space equally over a year's time. — MRS. M. D.

DEAR POLLY — Recently both my young sons wanted to use water paints and there were no brushes. We used baby's cotton tipped sticks and they worked very well. No muss or fuss when they tire of painting. Just throw away the cotton swabs.—MRS. W. W.

DEAR POLLY — I cut and hemmed a hole for my head in the closed end of a pillowcase and then did the same for armholes in the sides. I find this most comfortable as a sleeping garment. I also use my half slips for shortie gowns by turning the hems up and sewing shoulder seams. Leave a slot for the neck open and make armholes in the sides. Sew on lace for a ruffle. Remove the elastic from the waistband and shorten to suit. Wear pants with these. Even a full-length slip can be cut off at the waist for a shortie gown. This way I use all the old slips and pillowcases.—D. V. W.

GIRLS—You will have to go a long way to top this one. Those of us who are trying to reduce a bit could have as a goal the time we are able to sleep in a pillowcase.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I was out of nail polish remover and, in desperation used some spirits of camphor. It removed the polish. Try it if you are caught short of polish.—RUBY

Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: The grimmest thing happened at school yesterday and I am getting the worst of it through no fault of my own.

My girl friend and I were walking out of the cafeteria when we heard these two creeps behind us. They were saying some very crude things. We kept on walking and paid no attention.

Suddenly one of the guys slammed me cross the backside with a book. I was so shocked I swallowed my gum. When I heard these wild roars of laughter I turned around and jabbed one of the guys with the point of the compass I happened to have in my hand at the time.

He screamed as if he had been stabbed. Two teachers came running out of study hall. Frankly I was surprised at how much blood could come from a little tiny pin prick.

Now it's all over school that I stabbed this kid and they are making me sound like a maniac. Nobody says a word about him hitting me across the rear first.

All my school privileges have been taken away for one month. The principal called my mother and I am grounded at home, too. You might say I have been sentenced to solitary confinement for 30 days. Is this fair?—PERSECUTED.

Dear Persecuted: What do you

Dear Ann Landers: I am concerned about my behavior when I am invited to a party.

I am never content to sit and enjoy myself, as a guest. I always feel much more comfortable when I work in the kitchen, empty ashtrays, freshen drinks and so on.

What bothers me is my motivation. What appears to be a desire to help is really a compulsion to keep busy. It makes me feel "needed" and therefore "wanted." Can you explain this to me?—PERPETUAL MOTION

Dear Perpetual: You've just explained it to yourself but here is some elaboration:

Your feelings of being unwanted and unneeded have trailed you from childhood into adulthood. You feel inferior so you attempt to "serve" in order to justify having been invited to the party.

Many accomplished and successful people have the same problem. In spite of overwhelming evidence to the contrary they still feel inadequate and unworthy.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a married man with a problem. Some time ago while on an assignment at one of our company's midwest branch offices I developed a warm friendship—not a romance—with a young married woman I will call Portia.

During the holiday season I received a beautifully framed picture of Portia with a little note, "For your desk."

Several of my colleagues know Portia and her husband. They come through this city several times a year on business. I'm afraid Portia may be offended if she does not see her gift on my desk when she drops by. Yet I can't bring myself to display her photograph. May I have your advice?—PERPLEXED.

Dear Plex: Portia must have oatmeal where her brains belong. Her gift was in abominable taste.

Throw the picture out—frame and all.

Eight Girls Are Chosen For Contest

Eight high school girls from Smith-Cotton and Sacred Heart High Schools who had been selected by their classmates as candidates for the Queen of Hearts Contest and who, through the sale of tickets to a skating party at Tony's Roller Rink to be held Feb. 19, where the Queen of Hearts will be crowned, were guests of members of the Heart Council Friday night, Feb. 7, at a dinner held in the Green Room of Bothwell Hotel.

The girls are: Diane DeWitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold DeWitt, 309 North Quincy; Jennifer Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Taylor, Route 4, Sedalia; Nancy Beadles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Beadles, 2519 Wing; Cheryl Palmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer, 2511 Dennis Road; Penny Mitchell, C-65 Saturn; Jean Dick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dick; and two lovely little sisters, Julia and Susan Garrett, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Garrett, 2436 West First Street, each chosen by her own class.

Keith Larson, president of the Heart Council, explained how the contest was operated. Each 50c ticket sold represents five votes for the candidates and, of course, every class in both high schools will be out to see that their candidate wins. The last day of the contest is Feb. 19, the day of the skating party which will be held from 7:30 to 10 p.m. All money from the sale of tickets will be turned over to the candidates to be deposited at the bank and the deposit slip is their record to show how many tickets have been sold.

Larson pointed out that Tony Westhusing, owner of the rink, donates all proceeds of the evening to the Heart Council, which last year, according to Leon Hall, treasurer, was more than $400.

The Heart Council is made up of volunteer workers and the executive director and secretary are the only people in Missouri who receive a salary. The money is used as grants in different medical schools to conduct research on different phases of work, to educate the public on how to take care of themselves and the majority of it remains in Pettis County where it is used for therapy at the Children's Therapy Center.

J. D. Walker, director of the Children's Therapy Center, and chairman of special events of the Heart Council, stated that diseases caused by the heart which sometimes leave people unable to use parts of their body. This is the only therapy given at the Children's Therapy Center to adults, and the Heart Association gives 2,000 a year for treatment of these people in Pettis County, and because of this the therapy is given free through the family physician. Walker stated that the heart is the greatest killer of any disease.

Bridge Tournament Plans Are Announced

Plans have been announced for a bridge tournament here on March 6 to participate in the National Bridge Association's nationwide charity effort.

The tournament here will be under the auspices of the Sedalia Duplicate Bridge Club and will be played beginning at 8:15 p.m. at the Bothwell Hotel. Charge per person will be $2.50. Mrs. Jerry Trotter, of the bridge club, said all proceeds will be divided among the cancer and cerebral palsy foundations.

The tournament will be duplicate play and pre-dealt hands will be sent out from the national bridge headquarters. Thus a participant in the tournament here could place in the national competition as the same hands will be played everywhere such tournaments are held.

ease, and 54 percent of the people of Pettis County died from some type of heart disease last year.

Tom T. Keating, state representative, who is chairman of the drive, stated that this contest was one of he ways the money was raised for the Heart Fund, and that there would also be a house to house drive. He went on to say that there seems as though there is always a drive of some kind but this is the way we do things in this country. In Russia the government takes care of such things through taxes, but here, we give to help in these various needs, out of the goodness of our hearts.

Austin-Reece Vows Exchanged

Miss Judith Marcel Austin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Austin, 404 West 15th, became the bride of AIC Robert Duane Reece, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Reece, Mollala, Ore., on Feb. 1 at 7 p.m. The ceremony took place in the presence of the immediate family and close friends at Christ Lutheran with the Rev. Roger Fjeld officiating. Mrs. Kathryn Pahlow, organist, played appropriate wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a white wool suit with red accessories and carried a nosegay of white carnations. She wore a strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Attendants were Miss Marcille Breh, Marshall, Mo., aunt of the bride, and A3C Roger McGill, Fremont, Neb.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Reece is employed as secretary at Whiteman Air Force Base. Airman Reece will receive his discharge from the United States Air Force on March 1. He will enter Central Missouri State College this fall. The couple is now at home at 501 West Fifth Street.

On Tuesday, Jan. 28, Mrs. Merle Jones honored the bride with a luncheon-shower given at the NCO Club at Whiteman AFB. Guests were: Mrs. Ruth Galloway, Mrs. Gayl Ryan, Mrs. Nadine Hurd, Mrs. Linda Lindsay, Mrs. Genevieve Finley, Mrs. Velma Stratton, Mrs. Bonnie Morgan, Mrs. Madalyn Curtis, Mrs. Minnie Liedeker, Mrs. Edna Meyer, Mrs. Wilbur Austin and Mrs. Joy Young, sister of the bride, Topeka, Kan.

Holman's Give Report On Anhydrous Use

Experiences of the Holman's with anhydrous ammonia in their corn production on bottom land was interesting as related at the Soils and Crops conference in Sedalia last Saturday.

Bob Holman, his father, and son, Dennis, farm together on Muddy Creek in the northeast area of the county. In 1963 they harvested 270 acres of corn that averaged 90 bushels per acre. In their words this is by far the best corn they ever raised.

The Holman's are one of the few who learn by using their own check plots. In 1962, they side dressed their bottom corn, some of which was already yellow, with anhydrous ammonia. This corn easily made four times the yield on the check strip.

In 1963, they had their anhydrous applied preplant in 20-inch spacings by a neighbor, Karl Darby. The Holman's feel that 20 pounds of nitrogen is needed in the row at planting time in the cool soils in bottom lands. They also apply 40 pounds of phosphate and 40 pounds of potash through the planter.

More than three-fourths of the U.S. population suffers from poison ivy at some time, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Butoxone Effective Against Cockleburrs

Butoxone or 4-(2, 4-D-B) to control Cockleburrs in soybeans works quite well. That statement was part of a report given by Harold Pittman at the Soils and Crops Conference Saturday.

Pittman lives in Sedalia but his farm is one half mile south of Manila in Washington township. He bought the material at a local seed store and used it on 8 acres where the cockleburrs were really bad. Directions are to use it in the dark green stage of the beans and from about a week before bloom to mid-bloom. It is also effective against morning glories.

The treatment did set the beans back 4 - 6 days but it seemed to have no lasting effect according to Pittman. The beans were planted in mid May.

A Current report (no. 4434) on this material is available at the University Extension Center.

Palmer's Leads Singles Host In City Tournament

Palmer's Barber Shop of the Sedalia Singles Classic league pounded home a record-breaking 1949 scratch series coupled with 81 pins handicap to jump into the lead with a 3030 total after the first week-end of play in the Sedalia Men's Bowling tournament. Seventy-eight teams completed play the past week and another 48 teams will see action next Saturday and Sunday. Scores of the Barber Shop team were as follows: Charley Palmer 54, Don Potts 629, Charley Thompson, 589, Bill Palmer 635 and Larry McCown 522.

In second place with a 3010 total is Palmer's Tool Supply. Larry McCown and Bill Palmer paced the attack with series totals of 605 and 586 respectively.

Bud Carney with 577 and Ole Brandsgaard with 559 jumped the Lincoln 5 squad into third place while Mike Stansbury nailed a 606 series as Mac & Jack of the Hillcrest Business Men's league finished in the fourth position.

Leading in the all-events race is Jay Noble with 636 followed by Larry McCown 605, Harry Hoffer 603, Bob McCurdy 592, Tom Delph and Bill Palmer with 586.

Lopat Sees KC Athletics As Highly Improved Club

By EDDIE LOPAT, Manager, Kansas City Athletics

HILLSDALE, N.J. (AP)—The Athletics are an improved club, mainly because of the winter trades that brought power hitters Rocky Colavito and Jim Gentile and the fact that a number of our younger players have put in a couple of years in the big leagues. The latter should be ready to pay some dividends.

The main problem last year was our inability to manufacture runs. A home run at an opportune time would have enabled us to win many more games than we did. The acquisition of Colavito and Gentile, who hit 46 home runs between them, should supply us with some of that much needed power.

We have several fine holdovers from last year who should be better this year. Ed Charles has become one of the best third basemen in the league. He was bought by many clubs. Wayne Causey, after proving he can play all season, has given us a very dependable shortstop and the best hitter at that position in the American League. This gives us a pretty good left side. With Gentile at first, that leaves only second base questionable.

Jose Tartabull, in center, is finally coming around to believe he is capable of playing in the majors. He could be an exciting type player. John Wyatt, with two years experience, is the Bellweather of the bullpen brigade supported by Tom Sturdivant and Ted Bowsfield. Both did real good jobs the last seven weeks of the season.

The starting pitchers, namely Diego Segui, Orlando Pena and Moe Drabowsky, belong in the same category. They did much better in the final weeks of the 63 season. We are hopeful that Dan Pfister could pick up one of the starting berths vacated by the trade that sent Ed Rakow and Dave Wickersham to the Tigers. He has recuperated from an arm operation and is ready to go.

We should improve our catching as Doc Edwards has the makings of a good receiver. All he needs is work and experience. Charley Lau gives us a good back-up man.

We are not thinking in terms

Second Spot Salvages US Standing

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—This was the Winter Olympics that was salvaged for the United States by a second place finish.

When the Los Angeles Dodgers finished second in 1962, they locked their dressing room door for an hour, and brooded all winter.

But this time the second place, plus a third place, came in men's skiing.

For Americans to do that is something like asking the Austrians to organize a football team, send away to Pete Rozell for a book of rules and enter a team in the NFL. And then lose to the Green Bay Packers, 7-6.

The skiing medals gave the United States a total of six for the games, or twice the number of U.S. athletes who were arrested.

There were times during the games when the police, and especially the ushers at the big ice stadium, seemed to be out to give the wartime S.S. a good name.

They shoved and mauled innocent bystanders ranking all the way from newsmen to the Aga Khan.

"He may be a prince to some people, but to me he didn't have a pass," said one snarling usher, after he barred the door to the Aga Khan, who had a date inside with the Shah of Iran.

It may well take Innsbruck 20 years to live down the way the boys on the force behaved.

There were goodly crowds throughout the games, although that might not mean too much. Innsbruck is a venerable old place, with about 100,000 people, but there isn't much to do.

The whole town will turn out to watch a busted water main.

The Russians were the big winners, for the third time in a row. They got 11 gold medals, but the girls won seven. One other came in pairs figure skating and one in hockey, leaving two for the men in races.

Most of the Soviet medals came in sports that are about as fascinating to American as the apple bobbing championship of East Lima, Ohio.

Jean Sauter, a serious girl from Oregon with an urchin hair cut and an urge to join the Peace Corps, won a silver and a bronze medal in women's skiing.

The only American gold medal came in speed skating, where Terry McDermott, who handles the shears in the third chair of a barber shop in Bay City, Mich., won the 500 meters.

Scott Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J., who was 15 two days ago, won a bronze medal in figure skating. He was the youngest skating medal winner in winter Olympics history.

Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., and Jimmy Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., won the medals in men's skiing.

Then, to the great relief of local authorities, they got the Olympic flame out before it started a brush fire.

BRIGHT HOPE — Tom O'Hara of Loyola of Chicago, who broke his own record winning the Wanamaker Mile in the Millrose Games at New York's Madison Square Garden, is the brightest hope of the United States for a 1,500-meter gold medal in the Olympic Games in Tokyo.

Other major conference leaders and how they fared Saturday:

Southwest: Texas A&M, 6-0, beat Arkansas 72-64.

Big Eight: Oklahoma State, 5-1, beat Missouri 80-61.

Western Athletic: Utah, 3-0, beat Brigham Young 91-89 in overtime.

Boston Has Hold On The Cellar

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Boston may have a tight hold on the National Hockey League cellar, but its standout rookie, Gary Dornhoefer, continues to pester the Bruins' loftier opposition.

Dornhoefer, playing his first pro season, whacked in a goal with two minutes left Sunday night to give Boston a 4-4 tie with league-leading Montreal.

The tie, coupled with Chicago's 2-1 victory against Toronto, threw the Canadiens and the Black Hawks into a first-place stalemate. Detroit went five points ahead of New York in their fourth-place battle with a 4-2 triumph over the Rangers.

Boston Coach Milt Schmidt praised the rookie who has scored 16 points in 17 games.

"The kid is always around the net which is something I can never get these other guys to do," Schmidt commented.

In Saturday's action, Montreal crushed New York 8-2, Chicago and Toronto tied 3-3 and Detroit edged Boston 3-2.

Russians Lead Austrian Winter Olympics Close

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—The turbulent ninth Winter Olympics has sighed to a close, nursing bruises, pondering lessons and wondering whatever happened to the snow.

Russia scooped medal honors with 11 golds, eight silvers and six bronzes. The United States placed eighth in medal standings.

The final Olympic event—the spectacular 90 meters ski jump—was watched in bright sunshine Sunday by a crowd of 70,000, the largest of the games.

The gold medal went to Norway's airborne Toralf Engan with Veikko Kankkonen of Finland second and another Norwegian, Torgeir Brandtzaeg, third.

America finished with one gold medal won by Terry McDermott, a barber from Essexville, Mich., two silvers and three bronzes.

Perhaps the most impressive U.S. finish was in the men's slalom on Saturday. Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., won the silver medal and Jim Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., the bronze. Those were the first American medals in men's skiing in Winter Olympics history.

Even before the games started, there were shocks and alarms. First the weather stayed fair and snowless, and the ski runs had to be hand-packed with snow brought in from neighboring valleys. There never was any snowfall for the games.

Then there were two deaths in training with a British tobogganist and an Australian skier the victims. The games eventually settled down to bruising and bloody clashes between the swarming Austrian police and most everybody that fell out with them.

Cameramen and journalists ended up in jail. Three American team members—Bill Marolt, 20, Aspen, Colo.; George Farmer, 25, Seattle, Wash., and Mike Hessel, 21, Eugene, Ore.—also got arrested. They stood up in court, wearing their bruises like badges. The police complained the Americans made all the trouble.

As the time came for extinguishing the Olympic flame in Sunday night's closing ceremony, calm returned to this mountain-rimmed Olympic site.

Russia took the ice hockey title after being pressed to the end by the Canadians, once the champions of them all.

The Alpine skiing events went to the Alpinists with Austria's Egon Zimmermann capturing the men's downhill and his countrywoman Christl Haas taking the women's event.

Austria won one other Alpine title, and France took the other three through Francois Bonlieu (men's giant slalom), Marielle Goitschel (women's giant slalom) and Christine Goitschel (women's slalom).

The Scandinavian countries swept all of the Nordic men's events as expected with Russia's Claudia Boyarskikh picking up three gold medals in the women's division—one of them for a share in the cross country.

Russia's Lidia Skoblikova made history by becoming the first athlete to win four gold medals at a Winter Olympics. She scooped the pool in the women's speed skating, invincible over every distance from 5,000 to 3,000 meters.

Russia's grasp was broken when the men took over, but the Soviet Union still picked up one gold, with the other three speed skating titles going to McDermott, Sweden's world champion Jonny Nilsson and Norway's Knut Johanesen.

Holland's Spokje Dijkstra, overwhelming favorite for the figure skating title, won with hardly a check in her elegant stride. Germany's Manfred Schnelldorfer took the men's championship, and the pairs were won by Ludmilla Belousova and Oleg Protopopov of Russia.

The bobsled events were won by England and Canada, both countries without a single bobsled run but with a lot of ambition.

Valley Lead At Stake In Monday Play

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Maurice John is the most successful coach in Drake basketball history, but he's won just once in 11 games with Wichita's Ralph Miller. Chances are Miller would trade several victories for one tonight, with the Missouri Valley lead at stake at Des Moines.

Wichita's fourth-ranked Shockers were upset 76-74 at Bradley on a last second goal by substitute Leon Hall Saturday. Drake got a big victory at St. Louis, 70-57, on McCoy McLemore's 17 points and 25 rebounds.

This left Wichita 6-1 in Valley games and 17-4 for the season. Drake is 4-1 and 14-4. The Bulldogs have won four straight in the Valley, two over Bradley, since losing their league opener at Wichita by 18 points.

John's coaching mark at Drake is 80 won, 62 lost. His only victory over Miller was in 1961 at Des Moines, 101-88. That also was his best team at Drake with a third place Valley finish and 19-7 season record. His best club, that is, until this season's club which is making a tremendous comeback from a last-place league finish last year.

Seven of Miller's victories in the rivalry were by 13 points or more, with a high of 30 in a 91-61 victory at Des Moines in 1962.

Wichita has one road game left this season, at Cincinnati Saturday. Drake still has road games at North Texas Thursday at Tulsa Saturday and at Cincinnati Feb. 22. But tonight's game might prove to be the key to the entire race.

A career high of 38 points by Ron Bonham led Cincy's 78-68 victory at North Texas, snapping a five-game Valley losing spell for the Bearcats. Cincy thus avoided a drop to last place and climbed to fifth instead.

Tulsa belted New Orleans Loyola 99-76 at Tulsa and Louisville won 85-73 at Marquette, giving the Valley a 70-26 record over outside teams this season, a 729 percentage. In non-conference games this week, Cincy is at Houston tonight; Xavier at Louisville Wednesday; Southern Illinois at Louisville and St. Louis at Notre Dame Saturday.

Joanne Greer Named Future Homemaker At Smithton School

Miss Joanne Geer, daughter of Mrs. Mill Overstreet, Route 2, Sedalia, received the Betty Crocker Award for the Homemaker of Tomorrow for the Smithton High School.

Joanne is on the volleyball team and is a member of the Student Council. She plans to enroll at the University of Missouri, Columbia, preparing for a business major.

United Presbyterian Women In Meeting

The United Presbyterian Women of Broadway Presbyterian Church met for the regular monthly meeting Thursday, Feb. 6, 1 p.m.

Following a contributive luncheon, the group heard Mrs. H. N. Branson review "Christian Issues in Southern Asia" by Dr. P. D. Denanandan. Said to be "The last testimony of his faith," the book is a study of conditions in the counties of Nepal, Ceylon, India and Pakistan and the opportunities for Christian laymen to aid and influence, perhaps, the peoples of these countries.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Clyde Miller who read from the book of Exodus.

Mrs. Kenneth Smith, president of the association, presided at the business meeting and announced the briefing of the group study leaders to be Feb. 19 at 9:30.

The meeting adjourned following prayer offered by Miss Marge Rector.

The executive board meeting was held from 10:30-11:30. The Prayer Fellowship Group led by Mrs. Melvin Lane met at 11:30. Group II served the noon luncheon with Mrs. C. L. Turner in charge of arrangements.

Cocktail Lounge Destroyed By Fire

KANSAS CITY (AP)—An explosion and fire destroyed the Showcase cocktail lounge at 5505 Troost Avenue Sunday night. No one was injured.

James Halloran, fire director, said three wooden boxes lined with plastic paint were found on the dance floor. Two of the boxes contained liquid that smelled and looked like gasoline, he said.

Persons near the building said there was a strong odor of gasoline in the area about 30 minutes before the blast.

Halloran estimated the loss at $12,500.

GOLD MEDAL GIRL—Lidia Skoblikova of Russia shows the form that won her four gold medals in the Winter Olympics at Innsbruck, Austria. The 24-year-old Siberian schoolteacher scored a speed skating grand slam, winning the 3,000-meter and setting records in the 500, 1,000 and 1,500-meter races.

Valentines, Status Symbol Items of Note In Mailbag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

If you're looking for a new status symbol, why not be the first in your neighborhood to own a live buffalo? You can buy one from the U.S. Department of Interior for 3,300 buffalo nickels—$165.

Valentine's Day originally was for the birds. It is celebrated on Feb. 14, because that is the time when doves begin to pair. Americans this year are expected to send some 480 million valentines.

Fire, man's greatest friend against the cold, is also one of his most tragic foes. Fires last year cost nearly 12,000 U.S. lives.

America has more stockholders than union members. Women outnumber men among the 17 million who own shares in industry—and housewives make up the biggest single occupational group.

A government bureau reports that the average man's posterior covers 179.4 square inches and exerts an average pressure of .92 pounds for each square inch.

Our quotable notables: "Every cloud has its silver lining but it is sometimes a little difficult to get it to the mint"—Don Marquis.

It is often said there's no place like home. Well, in England there's a hamlet called "No Place" with a population of 289.

Sound advice: "The education of teen-agers would be insured if parents would pull a few wires: television, telephone and ignition"—Catholic Digest.

The high cost of living has caught up with cats and dog. Some of the nation's 22,000 veterinarians charge $5 for an office visit and $10 for a home call. A major operation plus convalescent care for a pet can cost $1,000 or more.

Quickies: Americans wear out 60 million decks of playing cards a year. Women consistently leave longer cigarette butts than men. There are more than 8,000 drugs in use today, including a tranquilizer for minks to make them more productive. Julius Caesar devised one of the first known codes to keep his correspondence secret.

It was Benjamin Disraeli who observed, "Every man has a right to be conceited until he is successful."

"The training gave me a tremendous insight into the problems of the average soldier, a rapport with the men I serve."

Walker was with the Mississippi National Guard during the Korean war but served in the United States. He was graduated from Mississippi College and the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville. He was a pastor for five years before re-entering the service.

Walker, his wife and their four children maintain a home in Pascagoula, Miss. He is chaplain for the Support Command, 101st Airborne Division, at Ft. Campbell.

First Kentucky Derby race was held at Churchill Downs, Louisville, Ky., in 1875, with Aristides the winner.

BPW Hears Talk By Mrs. Lindstrom

Mrs. H. E. Lindstrom was the speaker at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club Thursday night in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell Hotel.

Among her favorite places visited was the Canary Islands, which she said were named for wild hogs, not after birds, but the bird, she said, gets its name from the islands. She found the people very delightful, and every little town has a great deal of civic pride, with planter areas along in front of places with potted plants.

The sidewalks, too, she was impressed with, they were beautiful and made of tile in various colors and designs.

In this country, she said, she saw so many very lovely tablecloths and other pieces of Madeira embroidery. The children learn this in school and many women do embroidery work for a living. They sew without hoops.

Other countries she visited also had the interesting tile sidewalks, and the fronts of the buildings were also made of tile. There was an area edged with amaryllis with a fountain at the end.

Mrs. Lindstrom showed many fascinating pictures of Yugoslavia, Venice, Portugal and other countries.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Virginia Gilpin, world affairs chairman, who also presented Mrs. Joy Lamm, who sang "I'll Be Seeing You," "My Funny Valentine" and Brahms' lullaby. Mrs. Rosalie DeLozier was the accompanist.

Captain Marjorie Weber, president, presided over the meeting, and invocation was given by Mrs. Dorothy Huddleston. Pep singing was led by Miss Blanche Faust with Mrs. Betty Yeager as accompanist.

Miss Freda Mueller introduced the following guests: Mrs. Margaret Clifford, Columbia, guest of Miss Opal O'Brian; Miss Margaret Johnson, guest of Mrs. Edna Mae Kirchhofer; Mrs. Bryce Famuliner, guest of Mrs. Alta Reed; Mrs. Dorothy May, guest of Mrs. Addilee Beal; Mrs. Irene Kullman, Mrs. Gertrude Roe and Mrs. Doretta Waite, guests of Mrs. Lily Thomas, and Mrs. Erma Holloway, guest of Miss Alma Adams.

The club went on record as endorsing civil defense.

Captain Weber presented the plaque to the club as the champion bell ringers for the tree of lights for the past five years.

Mrs. Lily Thomas inducted as a new member.

Colorful decorations on the tables were of red and white flowers each with a beautiful red feathered bird which were made and given to the club by Mrs. Gladys Michaels, a member.

Members of Mrs. Gilpin's committee were: Mrs. Addilee Beal, Mrs. Marie Chaney, Miss Eva Evans, Miss Erma Fajen, Miss Margaret Ferguson,

Women's Society Of Christian Service Meets

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met at the First Methodist Church Feb. 6, with a program and lunch.

The program began with quiet music by Mrs. Vernon Rodick, and a solo by Mrs. T. E. Gasperson, "God of Grace and God of Glory."

It was brought out that the purpose was to illustrate the past and present involvement of the church in public affairs, and to challenge local churches to become informed on civic and political issues working out ways of translating their study into action.

A film strip, "The Church in Action" was shown, and a summation given by Mrs. Toney Turner, Mrs. Roy Stribling, Mrs. H. H. Bellmer, Mrs. Trudy Wilson.

The program closed with a prayer.

Mrs. Harry Wahrenbrock presided over the business meeting and the Spiritual Life Lesson was given by Mrs. L. E. Morris.

Horace Mann PFL In Regular Meeting

The Parent and Family Life Friday, Feb. 8, at 1:45 p.m. with Walter E. Diehl, vice-principal of Smith-Cotton High School, as the speaker. Presented by Mrs. Dee O. VanWinkle, program chairman, he gave an excellent talk on "Reading."

Mrs. Paul Dey, PTA program chairman, opened with meeting and welcomed the guests, and the devotional was given by Mrs. J. L. Summers on "Common Sense," after which she gave a prayer.

During the social hour coffee was served.

Miss Gladys Grady, Mrs. Rose Hausam, Mrs. Angeline Hurley, Mrs. Gladys Michael, Miss Freda Mueller, Mrs. Ila Rymmer, Mrs. Ruth Thomas and Mrs. Genevieve Watson.

Beef Producers Meeting Here On Wednesday

A third annual Beef Producers meeting will be held Wednesday, Feb. 12, at the Holiday Inn lasting from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Bruce Claycomb is chairman of the program.

Registration begins at 10 a.m. followed by a discussion of the cost of corrals and lots by Balanced Farming members. Dr. Clem Darrow, federal veterinarian stationed here, will then discuss the federal disease control program.

Lloyd Lewellen, Balanced Farming agent, will show slides of a recent feed cattle tour through Illinois and Indiana. Commentary on individual farms visited will be by Lester Dittmer.

Roy Donnell of the Woods and Huston Bank, Marshall, will discuss sound financing of beef cattle operations and a question and answer period will follow just preceding adjournment for lunch.

In the afternoon session Glenn Grimes, extension livestock marketing specialist at the University of Missouri, will speak on beef cattle imports at 1 and 2 p.m. John Massey, animal husbandry specialist, will discuss on-farm testing, the bull testing station at the university and changes in beef types. Question sessions will follow both topics.

Nation Gets First Look At 'Beatles'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Anyone who is not a teen-age girl obviously is unqualified to comment on the sight of the Beatles in action.

Heaven knows we've heard them enough. It has been impossible to get a radio weather bulletin or time signal without running into "I Want To Hold Your Hand."

Now, having seen the four performers on Ed Sullivan's CBS show Sunday night, Beatlemania is even more of a mystery to an elderly viewer. They sing close harmony, stomp their feet and play electric guitars, but so do a lot of American boys in slacks and sweaters, and Americans cause no riots. Beatle clothes look about two sizes too small, and I've seen sheep dogs with more attractive hairdos. But thousands of squealing young girls get their message. Camera shots of panting youngsters in Sullivan's audience were disquieting, in fact. Judy Garland did a one-woman show Sunday night, a brilliant hour in which she sang everything from "Happiness Is Just a 'Thing Called Joe'" to "America the Beautiful."

Recalls Celebration Following Civil War

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP) —Miss Mary Rice observed her 105th birthday Sunday and recalled that she had witnessed celebrations when soldiers returned home from the Civil War. Miss Rice, who is in good health, said she felt much younger than 105.

Patrolman Accused Of Receiving Goods

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP) — A patrolman has been dismissed from the Kansas City, Kan., police force and charged with possessing and receiving stolen goods. Fred Moore, 41, a policeman eight years, was released under $3,000 bond following his arrest Saturday.

Marries An Actress

LE HAVRE, France (AP) — Leonidas Radames Trujillo, 22, son of the former Dominican Republic president, Gen. Rafael Trujillo, Saturday married French actress Danielle Gaubert, 20.

Walter Milstead, chief of detectives, said an electric typewriter and an adding machine valued at $500 were found in Moore's car.

The machines were stolen from the Hughes Realty Co.
